

II---The Drive Down To Amalfi

This is the last of a series of letters from Southern Italy by Mrs. John C. Wrenhall, president of the Woman's Literary Club of Baltimore.

AMALFI

to the left, crowned with its round tower, of sunshine days and of the genial courtes was painted in lilac against the dark blue of the Southern Italians.
of the mountains beyond; lights twinkled [Copyright, 1908, by Letitia H. Wrenshall.

POWERED BY NewspapersTM
com